Please help and thanks in advance.. Questions, Is it possible to expand the internal memory to a SD card, either ...Q: How to get the audio amplitude using Google Web Speech API? Is there a way to get the amplitude of an audio file which I use with the Google Web Speech API? A: The Google Web Speech API provides a few different ways to get the raw audio input: Recognition Recognition using an audio stream. If you pass the model and an input stream to the client, the client encodes the audio stream and passes the encoded audio to the API for recognition. Recognition using a audio file. If you pass the model and an audio file to the client, the client encodes the audio file and passes the encoded audio to the API for recognition. Recognition using both an audio file and an audio stream. If you pass the model and an audio file to the client, the client encodes the audio file and passes the encoded audio to the API for recognition. The client also passes a stream containing the audio file. The Web Speech API Audio Input Type section of the documentation has details on the requirements for each input type and examples of how you can pass it in your request. You can find the decoded speech on the Recognition.results.audio.body property of the response. You'll need to do a bit of parsing to determine the maximum amplitude. To do so, you can use the volume property of the Web Speech Api Error. You can find more information about parsing the Speech Recognition Error object here. import { Component, Input, OnInit } from '@angular/core'; import { FormControl } from '@angular/forms'; import { PaginationDemoItemComponent } from './pagination-demo-item.component'; import { PaginationDemoService } from './shared/services/pagination-demo.service'; import { PaginationDemoServiceListComponent } from './shared/services/pagination-demo/pagination-demo.list.component'; import { PaginationDemoServiceUsersComponent } from './shared/services/pagination-demo/pagination-demo.users.component' 82157476af
